Name: _____   Date: _____

1. Although the Disk Defragmenter service is enabled on the Windows 2008 server, the service is not running automatically. If we turn this feature on, what is the default day and time it will run?

2. What does the W32Time service on a Windows 2008 server do?

3. What happens to the server daily if the Window Updates service is enabled?

4. Windows 2008 server should have the firewall services started. What three profiles are controlled by the firewall? What is the recommended firewall state?

5. WINS is a service that can be started on a Windows 2008 server. Give an example of how WINS works?

6. The Task Scheduler on a Windows 2008 server is installed, but by default does not have anything scheduled. How do we create a scheduled task?

7. We want to run a forced reboot at 2 AM every day. If we create a batch file called reboot.bat and type "shutdown r -f -t 30", what does the following do?
    a. –r
    b. –f
    c. –t
    d. 30

8. How often do we run disk cleanup on a Windows 2008 server? How can we automate the process?

9. WinRM is the _____, where this service provides access to remote computers.

10. We do not want to distribute IP addresses to our Remote Clients connecting by VPN, so we _____ and _____ the DHCP services setup for these clients.

11. On the command line, we use the _____ and _____ restart a Windows 2008 service.

12. What is the main role of a Windows 2008 server? To provide _____.

13. Identify three add on services to the Windows 2008 server.

14. If we are using Certificate services and Kerberos security, the client computer's and the Windows 2008 server's time need to be within _____ minutes.

15. What service will check if a client computer has antivirus protection before connecting to a server?

16. How do we view the services running on a Windows 2008 server?

17. What tab is visited to change the service action after an event such as a failure?

18. Windows Search services is a add on service with what Windows 2008 server role?

19. What Windows scripting language can be used to modify many services simultaneously?