

This year – 2006 – WORLD CLASS CAD

is introducing the newest website that brings excitement, certification of your skills and some competition to the computer aided design field.

This year, 16 online college textbooks will be available. You can now utilize chapters on 2D and 3D CAD. We will post new chapters and programs daily. CAD LISP and VBA programs are FREE.

Finally, there is a dynamic site that supports Managers, Trainers, Architects, Engineers, Designers and Programmers. Here are many proven methods that are used by hundreds of individuals using CAD that have trained with us sometimes just in the last year or over nearly twenty years of our careers.

You may find or have a better method, but for most professionals, you will discover that your path to drawing or project completion will be significantly decreased using these techniques.

What costs are involved: Your time to learn, to share ideas and to seek real solutions.
